I did not know Cameroun personally, but I knew his father. I played in the Clarinet Choir with Booker (sat next to him). Booker was such a fine example for me, and I loved him. So I know that Cameroun must have been a good man too. I'm so sorry for the family's loss. I know when Cameroun saw his daddy and asked, "How you doin'?" Booker said, "Fair to middlin', son."

I first met Cameroun when I hired him as a teacher's assistant for the Private Industry Council's summer program; I think that was in 1995. He was an asset to our program, bringing intelligence and a sense of humor to the job. I was so sorry to read of his passing. The family will remain in my prayers in the coming days, weeks, and months. I am asking friends to pray, too.

Cameroun was one of the most incredible men it has been my good fortune to know. When I was going through a tough period in my life his smile and morning greeting gave me that extra push I needed to get me through my day. He was also one of the most intelligent men I have ever known and I would look forward to our discussions about history and music and politics. Cameroun showed me another side to life that I would have most likely missed had it not been for him and I thank him for that. He made a deep impression on me and it is with great sadness I extend my most heartfelt sympathy to the Scruggs family.

Condolences to JohnnieLYNN and family. Be strong and courageous continue to pray and look to God for comfort and healing. Just know the Lord is with you and once the storm is over you won't remember how you made it through, how you managed to survive. You want't even be sure, in fact, whether the storm is really over. But one thing is certain. When you come out of the storm you want be the same people that walked in. That's what this storm is all about. Please don't hesitate to reach if there is anything I can do now or later. Tennie Lindsey

When i met cam it was a blessing from God.he saved my life and kept me strong. His smile and personality made my day so much brighter. He made me laugh even if i didnt think i could.he made me strong and made me feel so safe and so loved.i can't imagine a world without cam.he was everything good and loved everyone with all he had. I told him several times" i wish i could give you back what you have given me"he smiled and said" you just did".i will miss him every day but i will never forget him and neither will my children.he met my 3 living children and helped us all thru our grieving process for my oldest child.she passed in 2008 i met cam in 2010 i had thrown my life away and was desperate to get it back and he gave it all back. He saved my family.ill never forget any of our time together,his smile,his laugh or his advice.he is still my best friend and the only man i ever trusted. I love you cam!❤️
